HOLDUP MAN BROUGHT HERE FOR SENTENCE

Sgt. Daniel Miller and Borough Officer Raymond Menges Saturday conducted William M. Byrne, 20, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, from Franklin County jail at Chambersburg to the Adams County jail here with more than the usual encouragement from the Franklin County authorities.

Byrne, son of a socially prominent suburban Cleveland, Ohio, family, is accused here of armed robbery at the Three Crowns Motel, Steinwehr Ave., on the night of November 6. Local police claim that Byrne was the man who entered the office of the motel and at gun point secured $100. Richard Marker, the night clerk on duty at the motel at that time, told police a man had entered the motel, pointed a gun at Marker, ripped the telephone wires off the wall, tied up Marker, then took Marker's wallet, containing $10, and $90 from the motel's cash drawer.

GIVEN 6 MONTHS

While police here were searching for the robber, they received word from state police at Chambersburg who had come upon a car containing Byrne. Byrne had identified himself as Marker, showing Marker's pocketbook, according to news stories at the time. The local officers reported Marker was here, with them, and gave a description of the robber.

Lincoln Wanted Union Of Hearts, Hands And States Says Ike On TV

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's appraisal of Abraham Lincoln as commander-in-chief will be presented on the NBC TV network tonight 9:30 to 10:30 p.m., the eve of Lincoln's birthday.

Eisenhower's military memoir was filmed in his study here. He speaks of Lincoln with historian Bruce Catton, author of many books on the Civil War and winner of the 1954 Pulitzer Prize for history with his "Stillness at Appomattox."

In evaluating Lincoln's military role, Eisenhower offers judgments of Union Generals George C. Meade, George B. McClellan and Ulysses S. Grant, as well as Confederate General Robert E. Lee. His reminiscences concern FDR, General Marshall, Winston Churchill and others.

Lincoln, Eisenhower believes, has "something of eternal value" to give every American, North and South. "His generals brought him victory," he says. "But as commander-in-chief he most deeply understood, and best expressed, the profound significance of that victory. What he wanted, he said, was 'a union of hearts and hands as well as of states.'"

Rain, Snow, Lightning Kill Five And Flood Many Areas In S. Calif.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California went more than 300 days without a real storm. Then, with thunder, lightning, torrents of rain and snow in the mountains, it got one which:

Caused five traffic deaths Sunday on rain-slick roads and freeways.

Brought up to 8 inches of rain in suburban foothills.

Flooded hundreds of intersections and temporarily blocked many major arteries.

Sent angry seas surging against the beaches. At Venice the sea devoured the 80-foot-wide strand and undermined a parking lot beyond. "The beach is gone," a life-guard dispatcher said.

In Glendale a wire-mesh check dam failed in a steep canyon and a tide of mud and debris spilled across streets and lawns. Police said 50 cars were trapped in the mud.

BABY IN HOSPITAL

TO MAKE CHECK ON DOGS HERE

On or about February 15, a general check-up will be started for owners of unlicensed dogs, the Bureau of Animal Industry warned today.

All persons found owning or harboring unlicensed dogs will be prosecuted without exception. The minimum fine is $5 and costs of prosecution and the maximum fine is $100 and costs, or 30 days in jail, or both.

It is not the wish of the bureau or the local enforcement officer to make these prosecutions. Dog owners should take advantage of this warning and purchase their 1963 license at once, the bureau said.

The purpose of this check-up is to license all dogs having homes and to distinguish them from stray and homeless dogs. The strays can then be picked up and disposed of, eliminating the possibility of their causing damage to livestock and poultry and also preventing an outbreak of rabies among dogs. All dogs not bearing a current license tag are considered strays and may be disposed of by any officer on sight.

The purchase of a license does not permit a dog to run at large unaccompanied. It can be picked up by any officer when found running at large. Dogs should be confined to the owner's property or under proper control.

HIT AND RUN TRIED FIRST IN FEB. TERM

Trial of Vincent J. Roth, York, on a charge of hit and run driving was being heard by an Adams County jury today.

The case was the first for the February term of court and testimony in the trial had been completed by noon. Arguments by the attorneys and the charge by the court are scheduled for this afternoon.

State police allege that Roth's sedan collided with another car along the Emmitsburg Rd. south of here on the night of December 1. They allege that Roth then drove on south and was stopped in Maryland by Maryland state police and the driver of the other auto. Roth alleges the other car was over the center of the highway and his vehicle. He said he stopped for five or six minutes and, when the other car did not show up after the collision, figured it had been a hit-and-run accident and continued on. He said he was looking for state police or planning to phone one as he drove south. He said he did stop at a service station between here and Emmitsburg and attempted to call state police. He said he was unable to get through to the police station and then continued on into Maryland.

The jury hearing the case included Ray P. Duval, Fairfield R. 2; Mrs. Mildred Danner, Gettysburg R. 1; Earl Fohl, Biglerville R. 1; George M. Gilbert, 450 W. Middle St.; Joseph S. HILLSIDE INN PROPRIETRESS IS BEING SUED

Bernard Sprankle, Fairfield R. 2, has brought an action in trespass against Virginia Reed, trading as Hillside Inn, Fairfield R. 2, asking damages in excess of $5,000 because he broke an ankle when struck by another patron at the inn.

According to the complaint filed in the prothonotary's office for Sprankle by Attorney H. Thomas Pyle, Virginia Reed "operates a taproom or cafe as a place of public entertainment where she offers for sale and dispenses to members of the general public various intoxicating alcoholic beverages."

On Saturday, March 3, at 5:30 p.m., according to Sprankle's complaint, he and Levi Mumma were in the defendant's place of business.

The complaint alleges that immediately prior to that time Levi Mumma, who "was drinking at the bar, was visibly intoxicated" and that "Bernard Sprankle, who was drinking at the bar, was visibly intoxicated." It is also alleged that immediately prior to the incident Virginia Reed served Levi Mumma and Bernard Sprankle intoxicating beverages.

"At the said time and place Levi Mumma," according to the complaint, "after a period of verbal abuse assaulted the plaintiff, which assault, in combination with plaintiff's intoxication, caused the plaintiff to fall over a raised portion of the floor."

Sprankle alleges that in the fall he suffered fractures of the left ankle. Sprankle alleges doctor's bills of $125, a hospital bill of $237.80, loss of 11 weeks of employment by the state Highways Department at $80 per week, "grievous pain and permanent partial disability" and holds that "the assault upon the plaintiff and the resulting injuries were due to the negligence of the defendant."

The negligence alleged is "in permitting" Levi Mumma to remain at the inn while he was "visibly intoxicated" in serving Mumma intoxicating liquors when he was "visibly intoxicated" and in serving Sprankle intoxicating beverages when he was "visibly intoxicated."

SOCIALITE IS HELD IN DEATH OF BARMAID

BALTIMORE (AP)—A socially prominent southern Maryland tobacco farmer, charged with homicide in the death of a Negro barmaid during a posh post-debutante ball, was scheduled to have a hearing today.

William D. Zantzing, 24, of Mount Victoria is accused of "assaulting and thereby causing the death of Mrs. Hattie Carroll," 51, mother of eleven.

Mrs. Carroll died some seven hours after she was struck across the back with a cane as she tended bar at the elite Spinnaker's Ball in the Emerson Hotel early Saturday. Hospital officials said death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

COUPLE ARRESTED

Zantzing and his wife, also, 24, were arrested shortly after the beating. He was charged on two counts of assault and one of disorderly conduct and jailed for a hearing Saturday morning. His wife was released after posting $23 collateral on a disorderly conduct charge.

Municipal Court Judge Albert H. Blum released Zantzing Saturday morning under $3,600 bond on the assault charges. He was ordered re-arrested minutes later, however, when it was learned that Mrs. Carroll had died.

A state-wide alarm was broadcast.

SURRENDER SUNDAY

Zantzing turned himself in Sunday at Central Police Headquarters. He was accompanied by attorney Claude Hanely.

Mrs. Zantzing also is scheduled for a hearing today on disorderly conduct charges.

Police said the fracas started about 1:15 a. m. when someone struck a waitress, Mrs. Ethyl Hill, across the legs and back with a wooden, novelty-type cane as she cleared a table.

Police said Mrs. Carroll was struck shortly thereafter as she tended bar. The barmaid collapsed and died without regaining consciousness.

ROCKEFELLER SHARPENS HIS WITS FOR JIBES

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller appears to be methodically sharpening his disagreements with President Kennedy in anticipation of a possible 1964 presidential contest.

Politicians think the governor also is lining up with what they regard as the majority position of Republicans on major domestic and international issues.

Since his inaugural for a second term Rockefeller has been growing increasingly critical of Kennedy in terms that parallel those used by GOP senators and House members.

The governor sounded a familiar GOP Capitol Hill theme in Chicago over the weekend when he blamed the Democratic administration for "the present disarray within the Atlantic Alliance."

LIKES GOP TAUNTS

His recital of difficulties with Britain over the Skybolt missile, with Canada over nuclear warheads, with President Charles de Gaulle over French Common Market action and rejection of Polaris missiles sounded remarkably like attacks launched simultaneously by Republicans of widely various viewpoints.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., a conservative, criticized many of the administration's same actions and concluded its handling of world problems presents "a dim picture for American foreign affairs."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who classes himself as a progressive, said the administration seems determined that the United States be neutral to its enemies, friendly to the neutralists and hostile to its friends. He said the State Department "fumbled and bumbled" dealings with Canada.

UNANSWERED ISSUES

Along with Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a potential opponent for the 1964 GOP nomination, and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., a Rockefeller supporter, the New York governor has said the administration's position on Soviet strength in Cuba has left many unanswered questions.

Rockefeller pleased nearly all of the Republicans when he assailed what he labeled as Kennedy's dismal failure to carry out economic and civil rights pledges made in the 1960 campaign.

He has taken the same tack as some other influential Republicans in contending that Kennedy's tax program fails to provide for the kind of increase in industrial investment he says is necessary to lift the economy.

If in his news conferences and speeches Rockefeller consciously is widening the gap between the President and himself and narrowing it between other Republicans and himself, politicians generally credit him with a craftsman-like job.

known for his monument to the great law-giver, "Lycurgus," which was erected in Sparta, Greece, in 1954 as a memorial from the Knights of Thermopylae. King Paul of Greece personally presented Dr. Fairbanks the Knights of Thermopylae Medal on the site of the ancient battlefield of Thermopylae.

Dr. Fairbanks was born in 1897 in Provo, Utah. At the age of 13 he was awarded scholarships to study at the Art Students League in New York under James Earl Fraser, and when he was 14 he exhibited his work in the National Academy of Design. He was 16 years old when he went to Paris to study at the Ecole des Beaux Arts with Injalbert, the Academie Colarossi and the Ecole de la Grande Chaumiere. Prior to his return to the U.S. after the outbreak of World War I he exhibited in Paris, and in 1915 his works were shown in the rotunda of the Fine Arts Palace at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco.

Because of his work in the field of Lincolniana, Dr. Fairbanks was accorded the honorary degree of Doctor of Fine Arts from Lincoln University, Lincoln, Ill. The Lincoln Memorial University also conferred the Lincoln Diploma of Honor upon him. The National Sculpture Society granted him the Herbert Adams Memorial Medal for distinguished services to American Sculpture.

Dr. Fairbanks has submitted to the centennial commission photographs of some of his famous statues portraying Lincoln as a youth, a young man and as president. The works span approximately 35 years of the Great Emancipator's life in stone and bronze.

The sculptor's Lincoln statues appear in Lincoln Circle, Berwyn, Ill.; the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C.; Honolulu, Hawaii; New Salem, Ill.; Lincoln Square, Chicago, Ill.; Salt Lake City and elsewhere.

POPE PLEASED WITH RELEASE OF ARCHBISHOP

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The release of Ukrainian Archbishop Josyf Slipyi — pronounced Yo-sif Slep-pee — after 18 years of Soviet imprisonment underlines a major shift in relations between the Vatican and the Communist world.

The change, under way for at least for months, by no means spells the end of tension between the Roman Catholic Church and the Kremlin, but signs of definite improvement are in the air.

Pope John XXIII received Archbishop Slipyi, 70-year-old metropolitan of Lwow for Ukrainian-rite Catholics, in private audience a few hours after his return to freedom.

The archbishop had not been heard from for years. There had been reports that he was dead. Vatican officials reported that the pontiff wept with joy.

It was not disclosed when the archbishop was freed or why.

OTHERS MAY FOLLOW

Vatican circles speculated that Moscow was making an open gesture of conciliation to the Church and said they consider it likely that the Soviet satellites will follow the Kremlin's lead and release other imprisoned churchmen.

Moscow's move was the latest in a series of gestures indicating a softer line toward the Church. It began with the first session of the Ecumenical Council, which opened Oct. 11. At the last minute several bishops from satellite countries showed up. For most, it was their first contact with the Vatican since the end of World War II.

Two observers from the Russian Orthodox Church came from the Soviet Union. It was that church's first official dealing with Roman Catholicism in nine centuries.

Pope John and Premier Khrushchev exchanged New Year's greetings this year for the first time.

HOLDUP MAN

which fit Byrne, who reportedly had Mark's pocketbook at Chambersburg. Byrne later admitted his name to police at Chambersburg and the armed robbery charge was brought here.

In the meantime, Franklin County authorities had a charge of violating the uniform fire arms act against Byrne based on a revolver found in his bullet pocked car when police came upon it near Fayetteville. November 23 Byrne was sentenced to from six to 12 months in the Franklin County jail and ordered to pay a $300 fine and the costs of prosecution.

SIGNS PLEA

Saturday Byrne came before the Franklin County court for parole, although he had not served all of his sentence. Chambersburg newspapers quoted Franklin County District Attorney Jay L. Benedict Jr. as telling the Franklin County court: "We would like to get rid of him," when asked if the district attorney had any objection to Byrne's parole. The Chambersburg newspaper story observed that the district attorney "indicated that Byrne's conduct at jail has been anything but exemplary and that in view of other jurisdictions seeking custody of the young man Franklin County would be willing, if not anxious, to be rid of him."

Judge Chauncey M. Deputz then placed Byrne on parole for five years under supervision of the State Board of Parole, subject first to a detainer from Adams County and a detainer from Baltimore and turned the prisoner over to the Gettysburg police.

Byrne signed a plea of guilty this morning before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder here and was listed for sentence this Saturday.

ant. It was the first snow of the winter, and 12 inches fell at Mt. Baldy, east of Los Angeles, and 18 inches at Big Bear Lake.

Farmers were happy, too, although the heaviest rain fell in coastal areas, where agricultural acreage is least. In the Antelope Valley on the edge of the Mojave Desert, where ranchers needed rain urgently, only half an inch fell.

Snow and rain covered broad sections in the eastern half of the nation and in some other western areas.

Another surge of arctic air moved southward through the central part of the country. Temperatures dropped to near zero in parts of the northern plains and the eastern slopes of the northern Rockies. Freezing weather advanced into northern Texas.

Light snow continued over most areas from the upper Mississippi Valley eastward through the Great Lakes region and most of Pennsylvania and southward into northern sections of the Ohio Valley.

More rain splashed Tennessee, Mississippi and northwestern Alabama, while thunderstorms rumbled across northwest Florida. Rain changed to snow in parts of northern Arkansas and northwestern Tennessee with the arrival of colder air.

$99 MILLION SPENT BY R.C.

The American Red Cross spent $99,388,635 during the 1961-62 fiscal year, marking the third largest peace time fiscal year expenditure in the organization's history.

As in every year since the United States entered World War II, the biggest single item in Red Cross expenditures — $36,389,009 or 36.6 per cent of the total — was for services to the armed forces and veterans and their families, reported C. P. Keefe, chairman of the Adams County chapter, in releasing the expenditure figures.

Basing his information on the current Red Cross annual report now being distributed, Mr. Keefe said that the second highest expenditure, $13,420,745 or 13.5 per cent, was for collecting, processing and distributing whole blood and such components as gamma globulin, serum albumin and fibrinogen.

A total of $12,928,305 or 13 per cent was spent for disaster relief. Other health and nursing and safety training programs accounted for $8,122,869 or 8.2 per cent of the total.

The balance of the expenditures went for such activities as services by and for youth in elementary and secondary schools and colleges ($3,793,030 or 3.8 per cent); services and assistance to the 3,600 American Red Cross chapters by the national organization ($5,102,080 or 5.1 per cent); community services by chapters ($569,994 or 0.6 per cent); membership enrollment and fund raising ($3,035,164 or 3.1 per cent); public information ($2,697,105 or 2.7 per cent) and planning and administration by both the national organizations and chapters ($13,065,664 or 13.1 per cent).

Sir:

In recent weeks you have mentioned proposals for various town improvements.

Who will pay for these improvements?

Will it be the promoters of these improvements who own no property or will it be the taxpayers?

I think all members of our town council should be property owners.

Fellow citizens, will you please express your sentiments in this matter to members of our town council as soon as possible?

Respectfully,
MRS. J. ALLEN DICKSON,

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The citizens of Littlestown will hold an election on the 28th inst. to determine whether that town shall be incorporated as a Borough or not. The Court has appointed Hon. Wm. McSherry and Dr. R. S. Seiss, Judges; and Dr. Edmund F. Shorb and Joseph Barker, Inspectors of said Election.

The "Americans of African Descent" connected with the A.M.E. Church in this place, intend holding a Festival for the benefit of their Church, on the evening of the 23 inst., in a large room on Washington street, near the church. It will doubtless be patronized by a full house.

The country has been excited during the past few days with intelligence that our blockading fleet at Charleston had been "used up" by the rebel iron-clad steamers that had suddenly sprung into existence — that the blockade had been raised — and Europe was at once to acknowledge Charleston as an open port to the world. We have some accounts in our paper today of the affair. By our accounts yesterday from there, we learn that the whole affair has been an exaggeration; there was a small naval fight — but the statement that our fleet was dispersed, was entirely unfounded. The vessels were all at their stations on the afternoon of the attack and never left the vicinity of the port. The Rebel fleet returned to Charleston without accomplishing their object.

A Harrisburg female, of a "gay and festive" character, has for some time past, the Telegraph states, been raising the wind by levying black mail on respectable gentlemen of that city by threatening to swear a crime on them unless they came down with the dust. Rather than have suspicion thus cast upon them several gentlemen came down liberally, but last week she got hold of the wrong customer, a gentleman advanced in years, who had held one of the highest positions in our State, and he had her arrested and she is now in prison.

An army correspondent says that the wife of Gen. Hooker always goes into battle with him. "She is much beloved by the soldiers as he is himself. Soldiers have told me that a carriage filled with bandages, lint, necessities, and restoratives of all kinds, for wounded men, with just room enough in it for herself to sit down, is ever hovering around a battle where her husband's men are engaged, and that she herself, with cheering words and soothing touch, attends upon and relieves the suffering. God bless the noble woman!"

Colonel Ford of Harper's Ferry Notoriety: A Washington despatch says "The President has determined to rescind so much of the general order which dismissed Colonel Tom Ford, of the 32nd Ohio, from the service, for cowardice at Harper's Ferry, on condition that he tenders his resignation, to take effect the day he was cashiered. This does not mitigate his cowardice, but merely allows him to accept office again, should any ever be offered him."

Today's Talk

ISOLATION

I came upon this sentence one day in some book I had picked up. "Love is at once an isolation and an absorption."

The mere analysis of such a statement is extremely difficult, but an understanding of it is quite simple, especially if you have fondled the fingers of love and felt their touch of heart warmth.

Every mother knows all about it — and lovers sometimes do. But love in its largest horizon is always absorbing, purifying, and demonstrating. Its very isolation, however, is evidence of its silent movement in people's hearts. Sunbeams cannot be touched, but they can touch you! Love is something like that. It can neither be explained nor defined, but it touches you, warms you, lifts you — leads you. And though you may give it out, it may not come back to you as given, but like the sunbeam, it has absorbed something very precious from that which it has touched.

In our every-day lives, most of us have known the isolation that comes from faith, ideas, and a certain daring to stand apart from the ordinary, the uneventful, and the unwholesome commonplace. Most great figures in the world have known this isolation. But in it, and through it, has always come that power peculiar to people of action and vision. Isolated people are often severely lonely. Their task of understanding is so often taxed to such a great degree. But they are not always unhappy. For growth and gathering strength demand a certain isolation for their full fruition. But, after that, or in periods, a man must come out from his largest isolation to meet the world and its problems, and to touch people.

Nations can no longer isolate themselves. Modern civilization has made this impossible. Only through understanding can this world be made safe for itself. And only through communication, interchange of feelings and honest expression, can any of us scent the fragrance that life offers out of its creations.

Just Folks

RAIN IN WINTER
I'll take my rain in April, when tulips start to grow,
But through the months of winter my preference is for snow.
And could I fix the weather I'd try to guarantee
A schedule for the seasons the way it ought to be.

'Tis not in vain complaining a minute's time I'd spend,
The weather's one thing mortals can neither make nor mend,
But winter rains are dreary and when the north winds blow
And I'm prepared to face them, I'd rather have the snow.

Rain brings no touch of beauty when all the earth is bare,
It takes the snow to cover the ugliness that's there.
Rain floods the frozen gardens and strews the litter deep,
But snow falls like a blanket where rose and peony sleep.

I welcome rain in April, for that betokens springs,
But rain in February is quite a different thing.
It holds no pleasant promise to set the eyes aglow.
And so while winter's with us I cast my vote for snow.

Rebel gunboat in passing. It is possible that several of the iron-clad fleet will be run below the batteries, thus giving us control of the river between Vicksburg and Port Hudson and stopping the Rebel supplies which they have been receiving from the Red river country. With the river thus closed both above and below, our forces need only to secure possession of the railroad running to Jackson, to have Vicksburg besieged and force the Rebels to come out from their intrenchments and fight. The work on the canal is progressing, and it is believed that it will be successful, though sometime will be required for its completion.

RENAMING OF MARTIN AS FR'S CHIEF HAILED

NEW YORK (AP)—In this banking center of the nation the renaming of William McChesney Martin Jr. as head of the Federal Reserve System is seen as a sign the Kennedy administration will try for a middle course in financing its bid for added growth in the economy.

Keeping Martin on as chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System may help calm those who predict dire results from plunging the nation further in the red. The federal debt may go beyond $320 billion, compared with today's $303 billion.

The financial community counts on Martin to fight to keep the methods used in the added Treasury borrowing as noninflationary as possible.

1ST RESPONSIBILITY

The first responsibility will be the Treasury's—what kind of borrowing, and at what terms. Secretary Douglas Dillon will seek. But the Fed is charged with maintaining an orderly market for government securities, along with its other chores of keeping enough money and credit available in the banking system for business needs for current activities and for financing expansion.

The Treasury and the Fed also will have to work together, and with central banks of other nations, if the U.S. international payments deficit is to be held in bounds or, hopefully, reduced.

Martin's tenure as head of this nation's central banking system has won him the confidence of most of the financial community—a conservative lot—and apparently of President Kennedy, faced with fiscal problem in promoting his economic growth plans.

12 RESERVE BANKS

The former president of the New York Stock Exchange is on record as feeling that flooding the economy with money isn't a good way to sustain economic growth. In fact, Martin says, "The domestic liquidity of our banks and our economy in general is now so high that still further monetary stimulus would do little if any good."

He cites "the danger that too rapid domestic monetary expansion would eventually produce rising domestic costs and prices" and a twin "danger that too easy domestic credit availability and too low borrowing costs would encourage capital outflows" of American dollars to foreign financial markets.

The system Martin heads is made up of 12 reserve banks, each representing a section of the nation. Their stocks are owned by member banks and the return is limited to an annual 6 per cent cumulative dividend. Above that each reserve bank adds to its surplus any amount needed to bring its surplus to twice the par value of its outstanding stock, and turns over the remainder to the federal government.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond notes that in 1961 gross earnings of the 12 came to $945 million. Of this, interest from government securities made up $938 million, profits from sales of securities added $4 million, and earnings on discounts and advances to member banks came to $3 million. The 12 had current expenses of $161 million, paid out $26 million as dividends on their stocks, added $71 million to surpluses, and turned over $687 million to the federal government.

HAVE BIG INFLUENCE

Within limits set by Congress, the Federal Reserve System determines how large a reserve member commercial banks in various sized cities must maintain against their deposits. It sets the interest charge on loans it can make members.

The Fed fixes the margin for stock buying—how much a buyer must put up in cash, how much he can borrow.

And by buying or selling government securities in the open market the Fed can influence the ease or tightness of the money market. It can thus provide its member banks with more funds to lend, or with less, as the economy's fiscal

KELSO TAKES LEADS AS BEST HORSE OF YEAR

Associated Press Sports Writer
Mrs. Richard C. du Pont's Kelso has made an early bid for an unprecedented fourth straight horse of the year title.

This is a little early to be handing out titles which will be voted on next November, but Kelso still packs that devastating knockout wallop.

Ismael Valenzuela held Kelso back in fourth place Saturday in the $38,200 Seminole Handicap at Hialeah as Hitting Away, Jaipur and Ridan sparred for the early lead.

Leaving the backstretch with about one-half mile to travel in the 1 1/4 mile race, Milo cut Kelso loose. The rangy son of Your Host-Maid of Flight circled his rivals, shook off tough Ridan, and in a brilliant burst demolished his rivals.

WINS EASILY

Kelso was being eased up as he bounced under the finish line 2 1/4 lengths ahead of Ridan, from the JGW Stable, Robert F. Bensinger's Sensitivo, a South American distance star, came up to take third place as George D. Widener's Jaipur faded to fourth. Kelso was clocked in 1 minute 48 4/5 seconds and paid $6.70.

Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, favorite and carrying top weight of 127 pounds, was upset by Lynn A. Boice's Physician in the $58,000 Santa Anita Handicap at Santa Anita, Physician, upset winner of the 1962 Santa Anita Handicap, now looms as a big threat for that $100,000 affair Feb. 23.

Rain fell Saturday, and the Santa Anita track was sloppy as Jockey Don Pierce on Physician overhauled Crimson Satan in the stretch and won by a length to pay $17.20. Physician packed only 117 pounds, and covered the 1 1/4 miles in 1:51. Llangollen Farm's needs seem to dictate.

All these powers can have a lot to do with the course of the economy. Martin's conservative bent pleases that part of the financial community which fears growing Treasury deficits and government spending could revive inflation and feed speculation to the detriment of the dollar's good name.

BOY SCOUTS GO TO CHURCH

In observance of National Boy Scout Week, the Cubs of Pack 84, Boy Scouts of Troop 84, Explorers of Post 84 and their adult leaders attended the Sunday morning worship service in Redeemer's United Church of Christ. The pastor, the Rev. Glenn Finchbaugh, delivered the regular morning sermon on the subject "A Creed Worth Following" and read the scripture lessons from I Corinthians 9:24-27 and St. Luke 10:38-42. The monthly junior sermon by the pastor was on the theme "Honest Abe." The Junior Choir sang the anthem "A Little Talk With Jesus" and the Cherub Choir anthem was "Jesus, Light of Earth." Ellis, Miss Darlene DeHoff was organist. The bulletins and altar flowers were given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Spangler by the family. Sponsors are needed for the bulletins in March and April and donors for the altar flowers during the next five weeks.

RAYMOND BURR IS RECOVERED FROM SURGERY

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It was something of a miracle," said Raymond Burr. "I haven't felt so good in 20 years."

Burr had returned to his six-year stand as television's Perry Mason. He was back after a serious operation which required four weeks of guest stars to sub in court for him.

The actor was operated on a few weeks ago for intestinal polyps, and he has been quoted as saying that they were cancerous. However, he has declined any further statements beyond declaring that he was fortunate in all recoveries.

RECOVERY COMPLETE

"If you do have a growth, you are lucky to have it in the intestinal region," he remarked. "If you have it on the liver or some other vital organ, you're in trouble. But with the intestine only some of the trouble area needs to be snipped out and you're OK."

"My doctors tell me I am completely recovered. I am convinced. The operation not only removed the growth; it also made some corrective measures that have put me in better condition than I have known for years."

Burr's problem began in his boyhood.

"First came an appendectomy when I was young," he said. "The appendix burst when I was sailing up a river, and it was nine hours before I got to a hospital. Later I had to have another operation to cure an obstruction caused by scar tissue."

FAST RECOVERY

"I always got it in the same place. I was wounded there when I was at Okinawa. That's how I first got fat. Lying on my back for nine months in a naval hospital."

Even his co-workers on the Perry Mason show are amazed at his fast comeback.

"I was walking around four hours after the operation," he said. "I spent only five days in the hospital, then five days at home. Then I went down to my place in the Bahamas and was skin-diving; I found an old Spanish cannon at 40 feet which dated back to before the British came to the island."

VIGOROUS SCHEDULE

The demands of Burr's television role have been a problem of the long-running series. With his immense load of dialog on the weekly hour, he may have the most exacting job in show business. He has averaged one or two hospital visits per season.

"When I started the show six years ago, I began getting tired after the fifth or sixth show," he said. "I seldom caught up. But now I have more staying power than I ever had. I can do things physically that were impossible before."

As proof, he outlined a vigorous schedule for himself. He is committed for a seventh year of Perry Mason—it may return to Saturday night next season. He plans to film two pilots for his own company, shoot a feature film and engage in other activities, including his thriving art gallery in Beverly Hills.

Democrats Quick To Hit Scranton

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Democrats are chiding Gov. Scranton for what they contend is his inactivity in attacking the state's economic woes—especially unemployment.

The Democratic state committee, in the state's name, issued the name of Rep. Harry A. Kramer of Allegheny County, declared: "This failure is most notable in light of the governor's repeated campaign promise—indeed it was his campaign theme—that, if elected, he was prepared to tackle the commonwealth's unemployment problems in so many areas of the state."

"But only the most discerning would be able to differentiate between Mr. Scranton's postelection statements and his pre-election campaign promises."

Koerner, Strouse Spark Bullets To 87-67 Win Over Mules; Face State

A 58-point scoring performance by Ted Koerner and George Strouse paced the Gettysburg Bullets to a 87-67 victory over Muhlenberg Saturday night in Allentown before 2,400 fans.

Koerner, continuing the hot pace he set during the last outings, connected on 11 of 13 field shots and five for five from the foul line during the first half to personally outscore the Mules who tallied only 25 points in the first 20 minutes. Koerner cooled off in the second half to finish the game with 33 points on 14 of 27 field attempts and five charity tosses.

Strouse came through in the second 20 minutes where Koerner left off. The Bullet sophomore tallied 17 of 25 points during that half. Strouse landed a total of 10 of 22 two-point tries and five for eight from the foul line.

BIG HALF TIME LEAD

Gettysburg had little trouble keeping the Mules in check. The Bullets jumped to a quick 9-2 lead in the first five minutes on scores by Koerner, Woug Kepner and Don Szegda. Ken Butz landed the first goal for the host club. With in the first eight minutes Gettysburg had doubled its opponent's score and held a 47-25 lead at intermission.

The Mules started hitting in the second half and eventually outscored the Orange and Blue 42-40. Muhlenberg covered Koerner closely in the second half, but failed to stop Strouse who landed eight of 13 shots.

Koerner's performance stopped him 10 points short of both the Muhlenberg field house record and school game record. He was also just four goals short of setting a new Bullet mark held by Ron Warner and Al Teal, each of whom landed 17 goals in one game.

The extremely fine exhibition of Koerner and Strouse overshadowed that of two Muhlenberg players, Ken Butz and Bill Jones. Butz registered 10 of 19 field shots to record 22 points while Jones hit on 10 of 17 tries for 20 tallies. Doug Kepner, 6'6" Bullet center, was the big gun on the boards, topping all rebounders with 13.

Bob Hulton's Bullets have now won 11 of their 16 games and hold a Middle Atlantic Conference, University Division, mark of 5-2. Muhlenberg is 2-13 on the season and 0-7 in MAC play.

The Gettysburg Freshmen registered their eighth consecutive victory by belting the Mule reserves 70-54 in the preliminary. John Carpenter's yearlings own an 11-1 record on the season.

Dave Yates turned in an exceptionally fine job, scoring 25 tallies on 12 of 14 field attempts and one for one from the foul line. Jack Conway netted 14 and Jim Ruck rolled up 11 rebounds. Fred Albright and Bill Dreishbach topped the Little Mules with 14 and 11 tallies, respectively.

Gettysburg will have its work cut out when it entertains a powerful Penn State team Tuesday evening in the physical education building. The Gettysburg Frosh will tangle with Fort Ritchie in the 6:45 preliminary.

ST. FRANCIS CAGERS WHIP NEW OXFORD 5

St. Francis Xavier School came through with a fine 46-26 victory over a battling St. Mary's band of cagers from New Oxford here Sunday afternoon before a packed house. Coach Ron McClellan's Red Raiders are now 3-5 for the entire season and are 3-4 in the Parochial League.

The Red Raiders jumped out to an early lead 13-9 in the first period and built up a 25-13 half time bulge. After entering the last quarter with 41-20 advantage, the Raiders and visitors used substitutes freely and the scoring dwindled.

Phil Wisotzky was a standout for the winners and led all scorers with 12 points. Dan Brown followed with 10. Dave Croft paced the Blue Knights with 11.

In the opening game St. Mary's avenged an earlier season loss by coming up with a 15-11 triumph. Dick Kessler landed seven tallies for the winners and Dave James looped five for the Raiders.

The Red Raiders face a busy weekend here, meeting Paradise of Abbotstown Saturday and entertaining St. Aloysius of Littleton Sunday. Preliminaries to the varsity games will start at 1:30 p.m.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Roy Harper finally has the evidence that he was a hero 17 years ago during World War II. Judge Harper, then a captain in the 35th Fighter Group, was awarded the medal for meritorious service on New Guinea.

He received the orders but never the medal. An officer from Scott Air Force Base near St. Louis heard about the situation, pulled some strings and arranged a presentation in the judge's Chambers of a medal more than 17 years late in coming.

G-BURG SWIM TEAM SNARES INITIAL WIN

The Gettysburg College swimming team broke into the win column for the first time this season by rolling to a 50-44 win over Temple University Saturday afternoon in Philadelphia.

The Bullets, who were long over due for a victory, registered six first places as they brought their season's record to 1-4. The Freshmen team was idle on Saturday.

Sophomore Avery Gentle was the big Gettysburg winner as he walked off with wins in the 200-individual medley and 200-backstroke. The best team effort came in the final event of the afternoon. Trailing 44-43, Curt Coull sent Rudy Soocy, Clyde Betts, Curt Cheyney and Pete Wilson into the 400-yard freestyle relay to pull the decision out of the fire. The relayers did exactly what they were called upon to do and the squad won by two seconds over the Owl team, crossing the finish line in 3:44.1.

One of the big surprises of the afternoon was in the 500-freestyle. Sophomore Bill Van Tatenhove came from behind to nip teammate Curt Cheyney, recording a 6:16.8 time. Gettysburg's other first place finishes went to Scott Ashman in the diving and Pete Wilson in the 100-freestyle.

Tom Gallagher paced the Owls' attack with a pair of firsts, winning the 200-butterfly and the 200-breastroke. Temple also walked off with the first three events to take an 18-7 lead, but the Bullet power came forth in the final eight events.

Gettysburg will be out to build its win column when it tangles with always tough Dickinson Wednesday evening in Carlisle.

SANDY KOUFAX SIGNS FOR '63; GETS $32,000

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer
The next few weeks may turn out to be the most important ones in the promising career of south-paw pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Koufax, who signed his 1963 contract Saturday, reports to the Dodgers' spring training camp in less than two weeks, anxious to test the condition of his left index finger.

In mid-July last year, Koufax was sidelined with a mysterious circulatory block that rendered him virtually useless the rest of the season. Before the ailment, the 27-year-old speedballer had a 14-5 record, 209 strikeouts and had hurled a no-hitter.

LOST PENNANT

The Dodgers, who were leading the National League race at the time of Koufax' injury, lost the pennant to San Francisco in a playoff.

Koufax tried to come back in late September but his finger still bothered him. He wound up with a 14-7 record with 216 strikeouts and managed to win the earned run title with a 2.54 average.

Stylish Sandy signed for an estimated $32,000, receiving a raise of about $6,000. E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, the Dodgers' vice president, said that the condition of Koufax' ailing finger is encouraging and that circulation is normal.

OTHER DODGERS SIGN

Three other Dodgers came to terms over the weekend. They were pitcher Johnny Podres and infielders Jim Gilliam and Don Zimmer.

The New York Yankees announced receipt of second baseman Bobby Richardson's contract and first baseman Jim Gentile came to terms with the Baltimore Orioles. Outfielders Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Felipe Alou of the San Francisco Giants returned their signed contracts.

Palmer leads in delayed Phoenix Open

By CARL BELL
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, leading by a stroke, shares the spotlight with the weather as the Professional Golfers Association debated whether the final round of the $35,000 Phoenix Open could be played today.

The weather bureau forecast showers. The wind-up was scheduled Sunday but a storm, striking 10 minutes after the sponsors' $7,000 rain insurance expired, forced the first postponement in the tournament's 28-year history.

FAN DIES
A fan died of a heart attack after running to the clubhouse to escape the driving rain and hail. Wind uprooted a few trees, toppled a television equipment tower and flattened frame and canvas snackbars around the course.

The storm may have worked to the advantage of defending champion Palmer and to the disadvantage of Gary Player.

Palmer, with a 13-under-par 203 for the first three rounds, had played two holes in even figures when the action was stopped.

SEEKS 3RD TITLE
Player, starting the day tied with Jack Nicklaus at 204, had completed four holes in 2-under-par. Nicklaus, playing with Palmer, parred the first two holes.

Next behind golf's Big Three at the 54-hole mark came Don January and Gardner Dickenson at 205. Jay Hebert and Johnny Pott at 206 and Tony Lema and Rex Baxter Jr. at 208.

Palmer is seeking his third straight Phoenix Open title.

BOOK YOUTH FOR TV BOUT
By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Blair Richardson of Nova Scotia is the latest of boxing's young to be tapped for a major league debut on American television.

The 22-year-old middleweight from South Bay, N.S., will take on sixth-ranking contender Joey Archer of New York at New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

The 10-rounder will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Richardson hasn't been handed any soft touch for his Garden and video debut. Archer, a tall, fast-punching 160-pounder has a 33-1 record, including only seven knockouts. The former longshoreman doesn't fight like a dockworker. He's clever, fast-handed and has a stinging left jab to upset aggressive opponents.

Richardson has a 36-3-1 record, including 31 knockouts. This indicates he can punch pretty good. Archer, in addition to being a slick boxer, has a strong chin. He never has been stopped.

Bob Pettit and Russell set records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Big Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics and Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks passed milestones over the weekend in their National Basketball Association careers.

Russell became the NBA all-time leader in rebounds with a total of 11,041 to 11,005 for Dolph Schayes of Syracuse. Pettit crossed the 17,000-point plateau with 36 against the Detroit Pistons Sunday. Schayes still is the all-time scorer with more than 20,000 points.

"The record is a big thrill, but we're pros and the pros play on championships," Russell said after he had ousted Schayes with 23 rebounds against San Francisco Saturday and 19 against New York Sunday. The champion Celtics won both games at home, 118-112 over the Warriors and 129-123 over the Knicks.

Hottest Club
Syracuse, the hottest club in the league right now, had beaten New York 122-116 in the first half of a doubleheader at Boston Saturday. The Nets moved back home Sunday and whipped San Francisco 139-115 for their fifth straight and 10th triumph in their last 12 games.

The defeat dropped San Francisco again to fourth in the Western Division. Detroit ended a six-game losing streak and regained third with a 102-95 victory at St. Louis despite Pettit's 36 points. Cincinnati, playing at home, beat the Los Angeles Lakers 124-107 in the other NBA game Sunday.

Johnny Kerr and Hal Greer, each with 26 points, led the Syracuse attack. In addition Kerr helped Len Chappell hold Will Chamberlain to 29 points, 15 below his league leading average. Bailey Howell, with 22 points, led Detroit as the Pistons broke a 79-79 tie with the Hawks in the last quarter.

ERASE DEFICIT
Los Angeles wiped out a 21-point deficit on the hot shooting of Elgin Baylor and Dick Barnett to lead Cincinnati 73-72 before the Royals rallied themselves. Oscar Robertson, with 29 points, 12 in the last period, sparked the Royals. Baylor finished with 42 and Barnett with 27 for the Lakers.

No games are scheduled to night.

Predicts His Own Golfing Victory
PANAMA (AP)—George Knudson of Toronto went out on the limb before the start of the Panama Open golf tournament when he predicted he would win it.

And true to his word, he won easily with a 72-hole total of 280. His 73 in the closing round Sunday was his poorest of the tournament, but he was coasting most of the way.

Ernie Vossler of Oklahoma City and Joe Jimenez of Manhattan, Kan., were tied for second with 284 on this first stop of the Caribbean tour. Jim Ferec of Crystal River, Fla., the defending champion, and Dow Finsterwald of Miami finished with 285, tied for fourth.

Preschool Math Class Studies Galloping Dice

By EDITH O'HARA
Warren Times-Mirror

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—The room is brightly lit and silent. Thirty-three pairs of eyes are riveted on a table top as a young man slowly shakes a pair of dice in a box, then sends them scooting across the cloth.

Seven!

He picks them up and shoots again.

Nine!

This isn't a scene from Las Vegas. The crap shooter in this case is a 24-year-old mathematics instructor at Warren's Beaty Junior High School. The 33 pairs of eyes watching him belong to students in a special advanced instruction class in mathematics.

PURELY INTELLECTUAL

There's no money riding on those ivory cubes, and the solemn air of the classroom never rings with shouts of "Little Joe!" or "Boxcars!" The interest is purely intellectual. The students and their teacher are studying problems in probability—one of the branches of higher mathematics to which they're being exposed in this special class.

But the dice are not the most unusual thing about this class. First of all, the student—all of them in the "bright" category—are volunteers. The classes are held at 7:30 a.m. three days a week, and the pupils receive no credit for the course.

The teacher is Ted Newton, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Mansfield State College.

FASCINATING BUSINESS

"I'm learning as much as the students are," he says. "This business of probability is fascinating. We're doing some things here which have never been done before in a class room—and a few which have never been seriously tried in a regular laboratory."

The students in Newton's class are trying to map a pattern for the way the dice fall and arrive at a statistical average for certain combinations on the ivory cubes.

The students are enthusiastic about the classes. Recently when local schools were closed early because of bad weather, they asked Newton if they could remain in the lab and continue the experiments. He said yes, and they did.

LACK COEFFICIENT

The problems in probability have taken the students and their teacher into what some scientists consider unknown ground. They have met with difficulties caused by a lack of definite knowledge in certain areas. Take the dice experiment, for instance.

One of the big stumbling blocks, Newton says, was the coefficient of rolling friction. It does not appear in any textbook or standard source. Newton inquired of the Forest Products Laboratory in

New Haven, Conn. The answer he got was that the scientists there didn't know, but they suggested how he might find out.

Newton says that the course can produce many interesting results. For instance, a handful of pennies can be thrown into the air, and it is possible, through statistical research, to predict how many times they will come up heads and how many times tails.

NEW APPROACH

But again, the "facts" will apply only to the given group of pennies since they are affected by the age of the coin, the amount of wear it has undergone and even the mint where it was stamped.

Newton, a native of Port Allegany, feels this new approach to mathematics among youngsters ranging in age from 13 to 15, will prove that young people are capable of understanding much more than is generally supposed.

"We run into serious physics problems," Newton admits, "and we don't have the knowledge in this field. I've been trying to locate books I can use, but there is nothing available, except on the college level. So we have been playing it by ear. I am convinced that anybody can learn anything if they want to. You don't need formal education."

RECEPTION FOR REP. POWELL WILL BE WARM

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Adam Clayton Powell returns to Washington from sunny Puerto Rico he is liable to find the capital can be just as warm—even in winter.

For the Democratic chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee will have to face the wrath of his committee colleagues, the scorn of a senator and the displeasure of the administration.

Powell, 53, who is equally at home in the pulpit of the Negro Baptist church he heads in New York City, the political clubs of Harlem, and the plush night clubs of two continents, has managed to outrange the sensibilities of an impressive number of people in the past.

ADULT DELINQUENT

A combination of charm, gall and pride has enabled him to act as if he couldn't even hear their angry cries. Now that he has stirred up so many antagonists at once, these traits may not be enough to keep out the rising din of criticism.

The soft voice of Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., rising from the Senate floor, has spoken loudest, calling Powell an authority on "adult delinquency," criticizing his trip abroad with two "lady friends" at government expense and questioning the propriety of several government financial transactions favorable to Powell.

The muttered comments of Education and Labor Committee members, who feel he has now outdone himself in shirking responsibility, could prove far more wounding to the prideful Powell.

DISAPPEARED TUESDAY

Potentially most threatening of all to his continued jaunty progress through the House is the still unspoken feeling of some members that Powell is bringing

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

"Ask, and it shall be given unto you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." Matthew 7:7.

Kei Wan Yin, an interpreter in an American Mission, wanted to go to school in America, but was told it was impossible for her to get a visa. She had only had two and one-half years of English education and could not qualify as an exchange student or for a fellowship grant. Kei Wan Yin did have faith.

Half way around the world, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Russell of Roy, Utah, learned of Kei Wan's overwhelming desire through a missionary. With their help and the help of missionaries and officials, who were moved by Kei Wan Yin's faith, her dream came true.

Before going to Utah, Kei Wan wrote a letter to Mrs. Russell, "Someday, if I have that day, I know I will try my best to help others as you and they have done to me because think that is the way for me to repay your kindness."

Miss Yin is with the Russells in Utah today, continuing her education.

RED CHINA AND RUSSIA AT ODDS ON PEACE ACT

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

TOKYO (AP) — Red China rebuffed a Soviet Union overture for peace talks today, demanding that the Kremlin dump Yugoslavia as the price of such a meeting.

"There can be no reversing the verdict repudiating the modern revisionists of Yugoslavia," declared the Peking People's Daily, voice of the Chinese Communist party.

The editorial, broadcast in part by Peking radio, obviously replied to the bid by the Soviet Communist party Sunday for talks by Soviet and Red Chinese authorities as a prelude to any world conference on the Communist rift. It hinted that the Russians seek a meeting between Premier Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung.

"NO DEVIATION"

Peking called two weeks ago for an international Communist gathering to stem a disunity trend which, it said, has brought the Red bloc to "the brink of the precipice." But the People's Daily balked at Moscow's suggestion of a preliminary meeting between the Red powers.

The paper insisted there must be no deviation from the theme set by the 1957 and 1960 Moscow meetings of Communist parties all Congress into disrepute and must be curbed.

His latest troubles began last week. On Monday everything seemed fine. Powell energetically opened an announced two weeks of hearings on President Kennedy's big education bill, fulfilling a promise made to the administration to get right to work on the important measure.

HAND ON BILL

There is no way of knowing if he had learned Williams was going to take the Senate floor that day. However, Powell's favorite method of dealing with such problems has been to make himself unavailable to the press. At any rate, he flew to his home in Puerto Rico, where a spokesman said Sunday night he was just resting and talking to no one.

It may be that Powell deserted the hearings because he has little sympathy for the administration's decision to wrap 24 major education proposals into one super-bill with a $5.3-billion price tag and dump it in his lap with orders to consider it as one measure.

Whatever the reason, his absence caused the badly divided, leaderless committee to come apart at the seams, nearly wrecking the hearings and further diminishing the already slim chances for the bill, much to the administration's distress.

which denounced Yugoslav "revisionism" as the chief menace to communism.

"The revolutionary forces of the world will under no circumstances permit the export of counter-revolution by the Tito group; differences in the international Communist movement should be resolved only on the basis of the Moscow declaration and the Moscow statement," the paper said.

WELCOMES TITO

Khrushchev has welcomed Tito back into the Kremlin family since then. The two have been Peking's chief antagonists in the ideological battle between Khrushchev's policy of peaceful competition with the capitalist world and Mao's policy that the capitalists will have to be overcome by war.

The Soviet Communist party or Pravda, in a long editorial Sunday insisted that any world conference should be preceded by Soviet-Chinese talks to "clear away all the extraneous and irrelevant stuff."

MISSING SHIP PROVING MORE OF A MYSTERY

NEW YORK (AP) — The mystery of the disappearance of the sulphur-carrying tanker Marine Sulphur Queen continued to deepen over the weekend.

Did the 324-foot ship sink in the severe Atlantic storm that lashed the southeast coast with 40 m.p.h. winds, churning up 14-foot waves? Are the tanker and her crew of 39 in Cuba? If so, was she hijacked or did she become disabled and drift into Cuban waters?

Six search planes were ordered to scan the southeast Atlantic from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to Fort Pierce, Fla., covering an area roughly 250 miles offshore. The Coast Guard cutter Sweetum, last reported 200 miles off Jacksonville, Fla., also was ordered to take part.

MAY BE IN CUBA

The Coast Guard reported Sunday it is investigating the possibility that the Sulphur Queen is in Cuba. A spokesman said that the probe concerned the possibility of a hijacking, but then said the ship might have drifted into Cuban waters.

Other sources said that the Swiss Embassy in Havana, on a request from the U.S. State Department, presumably is trying to check out speculation that the Marine Transport Lines tanker is in Cuba.

The Sulphur Queen left Beaumont, Tex., Feb. 2. Its course through the Gulf of Mexico would not have been too far from Cuban waters.

Although her route would have taken her through regular sea lanes, no other vessel definitely has reported sighting her.

Faubus Offers To Play Blues

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — When Gov. Orval E. Faubus' office staff gave him a player piano for Christmas, someone suggested that he play a tune.

"How about the Fifth Term Blues?" proposed an aide. Faubus, who won a fifth term in the November 6 election, countered: "How about the Sixth Term March?"

Littlestown TO START WORK SOON IN CHURCH

Plans are to start with the re-decorating of St. John's Lutheran Church sanctuary on Monday, February 25. This will necessitate holding one or two of the worship services in the Sunday School room.

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Church, presented a sermon on the subject "Religion Must Be Real" at the worship service Sunday. He read the epistle lesson from I Corinthians 9:24-10:5, and the gospel lesson from Matthew 20:1-16. An anthem was sung by the choir, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Jay D. Basehor. The ushers were Edgar E. Yealy, Gene R. Renner, Francis I. Gerrick and Elmer Coppersmith. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowers and sons, Alton, Joseph and Cletus, by the family. It was announced that those who wish to attend Camp Nawaka this summer should have their registrations in as soon as possible to the pastor.

The February meeting of the Ever Willing Class will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the church. The Bible workshop being sponsored by St. John's and St. Paul's Churches will be held on Thursday in St. Paul's. The choir will not rehearse this coming week due to conflicting schedules. The midweek Lenten services will begin on Ash Wednesday, February 27, and the special Lenten messages will be around character studies of the twelve apostles.

SCOUTS AT MASS

A group of 30 Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorers of the community, accompanied by Stewart N. Long, neighborhood chairman of the Black Walnut District; John R. Rudisill, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 84, and Larry Altoff, senior patrol leader, attended the 7:30 a.m. Mass in St. Aloysius Catholic Church in observance of National Boy Scout Week Sunday.

The Mass was served by Star Scout Ronald Redding and Eagle Scout Gerard Altoff. The Rev. Dr. John E. Metz, pastor, welcomed the boys, who were in uniform, and commended the adult leaders for the time and efforts which they expend in this worthwhile program. A special offering was received for the Society of the Propagation of the Faith.

Daily Mass this week will be at 7:15 a.m. in the church, and on Saturday at 7:30 a.m. in the convent chapel. There will be no religious instructions for junior-senior high students tonight. The weekly public party will be held at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in the parish hall, when Thomas G. French will head the committee on general arrangements and Mrs. Thomas French is chairman of the refreshment committee.

Pape Property Is To Be Torn Down

A Chambersburg landmark is being razed to permit an automobile agency to expand its facilities.

Workmen of the Gorman and Smith Construction Co., of Gettysburg, are engaged in razing the 60-year-old feed and grain mill located immediately to the east of the Gayman Chevrolet facilities at Second and Broad Streets.

The one and three-story brick and frame mill structure was recently purchased by Mrs. Eva Pape, of Gettysburg, from Frank Sandoe, of Chambersburg R. 3. Mrs. Pape is owner of the adjacent garage and showroom facilities under lease to the Gayman agency.

York DA Tries To Pin Legal Bingo

YORK, Pa. (AP) — The York County district attorney is taking steps he hopes will specify eventually what types of bingo games are legal in Pennsylvania.

Dist. Atty. Daniel W. Shoemaker said Saturday he has prepared a proposal which would prevent bingo games from being played in commercial establishments for personal gain.

It would not, however, affect games held by charitable organizations as "a fund-raising function."

Shoemaker said he would ask Reps. John H. Anderson, a Republican, and John Gailey, a Democrat, both of York County, to introduce such a bill to the current session of the General Assembly.

Master Soothes Dog By 'Phone

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mario Teluchi, a restaurant headwaiter, has a poodle, Lover, that gets lonesome and barks while Teluchi is at work. Then, neighbors complain.

So Teluchi arranged a direct phone connection to his apartment, with amplifiers on each end. Now, Mario listens to the phone at intervals, and if Lover is barking, he commands, "Quiet, Lover!"

TWO THINGS AT ONCE

BOSTON (AP) — The Harvard Schools of Medicine and Public Health are painfully aware of the time crisis that forever haunts doctors. Offering physicians a noon half-hour film showing different problems facing a family agency, the School of Public Health noted: "You may bring your lunch and eat it during the film."

People are spending about the same amount — 19.7 per cent — of their take-home pay for food this year as last, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

CLARK CLAIMS PARTY MUST BOLT RACKETS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., says the Democratic party in Pennsylvania can't be reorganized, as he wants, unless it is divorced from what he calls connections with racketeers.

His colleague in the Senate, Republican Hugh Scott, appearing on the same taped radio-television show, said Sunday with some apparent glee that he was happy to see Clark "standing up to his political party."

"I hope he will do more of it," Scott said. "I hope he will even find resources of occasional invective or philippic."

Clark recently has been critical of Democratic organizations in Philadelphia and other counties in Pennsylvania. He has said he wants to remake the image of the party in the state.

WANTS NEW IMAGE

Clark emphasized that he has made no assertions of big-time gambling existing in Philadelphia. "It's very different," he said, "from Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) where you have all those federal stamp tax fellows."

He was referring to the required $50 federal gambling stamp, which exposes purchasers as violators of state and local anti-gambling laws. Clark recently disclosed a list of 46 stamp holders in Schuylkill and Northumberland Counties.

Clark said he was amazed by the many letters of support he has received.

GAINS POPULARITY

Scott said: "I had a number of my Republican friends say to me, 'Well, I didn't like Joe Clark. I didn't vote for him, but I certainly think he's right in this instance.'"

Scott indicated he would "undoubtedly make proper political use" of the charges made by Clark.

Clark said: "My objective is to hope that we can so reorganize the Democratic party that we can carry the state for President Kennedy in 1964, elect a good liberal Democrat to replace Hugh Scott and get control of the state legislature."

ASIAN FLU IS SWEEPING WAY INTO MIDWEST

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A shock wave of Asian flu—a wintry friend of death—is hitting the Eastern Seaboard and leaping inland as far as Kansas.

U.S. Public Health Service officials can't say for sure, but the odds are it will spread in local outbreaks across the country.

In a sampling of 108 cities, the Public Health Service reports that pneumonia-influenza deaths have been running over the epidemic threshold for four weeks.

Especially vulnerable are the elderly, the chronically ill and pregnant women.

Asian flu has been confirmed in Maryland, Kansas, Illinois, North Carolina and the District of Columbia.

IN MANY STATES

It is suspected strongly but not yet confirmed in Vermont, Maine, Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia.

Confirmation is made by laboratory tests of blood specimens from victims to detect the high level of protective antibodies against the virus, and by spotting the virus in throat swabs.

The Public Health Service warned earlier this year that following the normal cycle Asian flu likely would strike the nation hard this winter. For a while it looked as though the warning was wrong.

Then, in mid-January, the pattern of Asian flu appeared. Now it is expected to stay until mid-March when it generally declines.

EVERY 2-3 YEARS

Asian influenza is one of the "A" type influenza viruses which seem to strike every two or three years. It was first seen in the winter of 1957-58. There was some forewarning when it was identified in Japan and named. Vaccines were hurriedly made against the virus and distributed widely across the United States.

Officials believe that the vaccines took the top off of the epidemic that year—but it still was of great proportions. A wave of the disease in the fall of 1957 was associated with 39,300 excess deaths above the normal death rate. The winter have left 20,000 excess deaths.

It struck the United States again in 1960 and there were 26,700 excess deaths.

From those epidemics, experts have determined that people over 45 are in the risk category—with those over 65 in the area of greatest risk.

Man Accused Of Slaying Gets $23,000

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Paige R. Blakely Jr., 33, discharged on a writ of habeas corpus in the murder of his parents two years ago, has been awarded $23,000 from their estates.

The Montgomery County Orphans Court directed the award Saturday on a petition by Blakely's attorney, Frederick B. Smilie.

Smilie said Blakely's discharge "means of course that the commonwealth not only did not have sufficient evidence to convict him but could not even establish a prima facie case."

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paige R. Blakely Sr., were found shot to death in their locked home in Pottstown March 28, 1961.

COUNTIES SEEK FUNDS TO FIGHT DELINQUENCY

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Welfare Department reports an increase this year over last in request for state financial assistance to combat juvenile delinquency.

Public Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams said Saturday 82 community and county units have applied for a total of $638,556 in state help this year. Last year, 61 units requested—and received—$596,549 in assistance.

Adams broke the current applications down this way: 36 for $236,058 to establish municipal police services; 44 for $252,547 for county probation services; and two for $99,952 for juvenile crime prevention programs in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

ALL COUNTIES ELIGIBLE

All counties are eligible under the probation subsidy program to apply for funds for use in the improvement of juvenile probation services. The communities filed for aid to municipal police services.

Last year, Adams reported, 39 counties applied for $232,185 for improvement of juvenile probation services while 30 communities received $256,364 for police services to children.

Some $108,000 went to Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to finance programs for the control of juvenile gangs.

Adams said 11 of the 82 applicants this year are joining the program for the first time: the cities of Harrisburg and Chester, the townships of Millersburg, Lower Merion, Springfield and Upper Merion, and the counties of Bedford, Clearfield, Lancaster, Somerset and Warren.

KENNEDYS GO ON A WALKING BINGE SUNDAY

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a vigorous weekend on the New Frontier. President Kennedy took his wife on three short hikes and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy walked 50 miles in 17 hours—all in the cause of physical fitness.

Ethel Kennedy, the attorney general's wife, added to the aura of vitality by declaring she'd welcome twins to the busy routine of her family of seven.

But Ethel, who is expecting her eighth child in June, added there is no medical evidence to indicate twins are in the offing.

The one discordant note was sounded by Joan Kennedy, wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. Joan wrote in Look magazine that the President, because of persistent back trouble, can barely pick up his 2-year-old son, John Jr.

BABY GETTING HEAVY

Reporting that young John now weighs about 35 pounds, the White House said "the President's back is improving but his son is getting heavier."

If President Kennedy's back is slowing him down, this wasn't evident Sunday during his three walks with the first lady.

Kennedy set such a brisk pace that it almost seemed he was training for a 50-mile hike of his own.

Fifty miles became a magic number on the New Frontier after Kennedy learned about a 1908 executive order in which President Theodore Roosevelt proclaimed this distance an appropriate fitness tests for Marine officers.

OTHERS MAKE TEST

At the President's suggestion, 20 Marines will take the Roosevelt test at Camp Lejeune Tuesday. On Friday, volunteers from the White House staff and press corps will embark on a similar expedition.

Robert Kennedy jumped the gun on these endeavors Saturday by walking 50 miles from Washington toward Thurmont, Md. The 37-year-old attorney general was accompanied by four aides who faltered before the finish line.

The attorney general reached his destination at 11 p.m., attended a 9 a.m. Roman Catholic Mass the next morning, and then went ice skating.

President Kennedy and the First Lady started their walking binge in New York, where they spent a weekend of theater-going, fancy eating and partying.

HAD TO TROT

After attending a 12:30 p.m.

Mass in uptown Manhattan, the Kennedys and her sister, Lee Radziwill, hiked three blocks down Park Avenue to a fashionable French restaurant, Voisin. Lee had to trot at one point to keep up.

The President had a training-table portion of steak at the restaurant and Mrs. Kennedy dined on eggs benedict. Then the threesome set out again, this time walking five blocks up Park Avenue.

TAKE THIRD WALK

Returning to Washington just before dusk, the presidential limousine pulled to the curb about a quarter-mile from the White House and the Kennedys emerged for their third walk. The route lay across the park south of the executive mansion, with the grass soggy enough to present a problem for Mrs. Kennedy in her high-heeled shoes. Kennedy took her arm to help her.

Through all this walking, with temperatures in the high 30s, Kennedy was bareheaded and wore no topcoat. He carried a hat which he waved at startled pedestrians and motorists who, spying him, gave a honk or a holler.

IKE INTERVIEW ON LINCOLN TO BE ON NBC TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The glamorous spy business is in a pretty good fix, as far as television entertainment goes.

Take, for example, the unimaginative goings on during Sunday night's "Two Faces of Treason" on NBC.

It was a tale about a hesitant, unambitious Army corporal called to reluctant cloak and dagger duty because he resembled a deceased foreign agent—an agent who met his reward crossing against a red light.

LONG TIME BETWEEN
In addition, the clever foreign agents identify each other by flashing laundry tickets. And the heads of both the Washington and New York apparatuses are really working for use. Finally, our reluctant hero gets away with his masquerade by pretending he has amnesia.

There's nothing more fascinating than a rip-roaring, fast-paced and slick espionage tale. But it's been a long, long time since we've seen one on television—except on the late late shows. They require special skill, the kind possessed by Eric Ambler, who can write them, and Alfred Hitchcock, who can direct them.

Recommended tonight: "Eisenhower on Lincoln. The Commander-in-Chief." NBC, 9:30-10 (EST)—a discussion of the Civil War president by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, interviewed at Gettysburg.

Humphrey Urges "Free Cuba" Moves

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, a close associate of President Kennedy, has indicated a "Free Cuba" program is in the works.

The Minnesota Democrat said Sunday night, "There must be a program for a Free Cuba—and no such program has been announced yet," adding:

"You will see unfold in the months ahead programs, policies and action by this nation and other friendly nations that will underscore my remarks here to-night."

Humphrey told a Jewish organization dinner he wants to see the "defeat and destruction" of communism in Cuba but offered no specific course of action to this end.

Jews Decide U.S. Aid To Schools OK

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Officials of U. S. Hebrew Day schools have rejected the view that federal aid to parochial schools might result in government interference.

Dr. Joseph Kaminsky, director of the National Society of Hebrew Day schools, said Sunday the 229 principals and directors of day schools in the country gave this view in a survey.

Speaking at the 15th annual convention of the National Association of Hebrew Day School PTAs, Dr. Kaminsky said 86 per cent of the school officials feel federal aid would not lead to interference.

"More than half of those who feel that federal aid might result in interference... favored such aid nevertheless," he said.

MADRID (AP) — Another official of the Cuban embassy in Madrid announced today his defection, "because I would rather be a dead democrat than live Communist."

He was one of five officials remaining at the embassy. Several other Cuban officials here have defected in recent months.

The Story Behind The Book

FACE OF NORTH AMERICA

By Peter Farb

A book about the grandeur, beauty and vast variety of our continent, from the Aleutian Islands down to the Florida keys and Mexico—Peter Farb's "Face of North America" — is the March Selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

Even Americans who travel widely tend to take for granted the country they fly over or drive through — its vast plains, great mountains, lakes and rivers, rugged sea cliffs and broad, sandy beaches.

This is the land that Peter Farb describes in his book, subtitled "The Natural History of a Continent," which represents upward of 40,000 miles of journeying about to study and observe or to consult with experts; and some four years of research and writing.

"Face of North America" pursues two main themes: One, the fascinating diversity of the different regions of America; the other, the constant changes in it past and present.

DRAMATIC CHANGES

Some of the most dramatic changes, Mr. Farb notes, were brought about by glacial action. "The moving wall of ice, which at times pushed forward at the speed of a foot a day, altered everything in its path. It ripped out immense boulders and used them as sandpaper to scrape off the thin veneer of soil. The glacier was like a monumental plow upon the land, scooping out depressions in the earth and grinding boulders down to pebbles."

Other changes yet, as Mr. Farb points out in a section on seacoasts, have been and are being brought about by the unending assaults of waves, currents and tides. Still others come about because of water falling upon the land. Even the mightiest mountains may be in time subdued by water in the form of frost, ice, snow or running streams.

"The New World," Mr. Farb observes, "is new not only in the sense of being a recent discovery, but also in that man traveled to it across the Bering Strait land bridge a mere tens of thousands of years ago, and many animals and plants are likewise relatively recent arrivals from Asia. Until recently the Bering land bridge had been visualized as a narrow gateway or isthmus, but the latest evidence seems to indicate that it was at times as much as 1,300 miles wide, completely linking Alaska and Siberia."

"FEEL RESTLESS"

Forests and deserts are also discussed in "Face of North America," as are birds and animals of all kinds. "The prairie dog's real nature is concealed by two inaccurate names. It is not a dog; rather, it is related to the squirrel. Nor does it usually inhabit the prairies, but rather the shortgrass plains. Before the plains were settled, prairie-dog towns in many places stretched as far as the eye could see. One group of Texas prairie-dog towns was estimated, probably with some exaggeration, to cover 25,000 square miles, and to have a total population of 400 million animals."

"Face of North America" will make stay-at-homes feel restless and Europe-bound tourists think twice," Gilbert Highet declares in a review in the Book-of-the-Month Club News. Mr. Farb's book is indeed full of interesting facts and details, and well illustrated with drawings and photographs. For a speed-conscious superhighway-oriented generation, it is a splendid reminder of America's natural heritage.

Peter Farb made his first acquaintance with nature as a city boy and has been fascinated with it ever since. Born in New York City in 1929, he had gathered a formidable collection of insect specimens in local parks and streets by the time he was 10 years old.

EARLY AMBITION

His early ambition was to become a research biologist, but at Vanderbilt University he decided to specialize in nature writing. Graduated from Vanderbilt magna cum laude in 1950, he soon began contributing to Reader's Digest, Audubon Magazine, American Forests and other periodicals.

In 1953 he married Oriole Horsch, art student and now an associate director of the Riverside Museum in New York. His first book, "Living Earth" (1959), was a study of the teeming life of the soil and the bonds linking soil, air, animals and plants. Since 1960, when he was elected a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, he has written "The Forest" and "The Insects," both volumes in the Life Nature Library, and several children's books on natural history.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

LOVELY EYES. A teen asks: How can I make my eyes look prettier without eye makeup? I'm not allowed to use it yet. And I feel like a plain Jane.

The Answer: Many teens think that they are lost to beauty because eye cosmetics are taboo for them. But there's not a bit of truth in the idea.

The eyes are considered absolutely lovely when they are clear, well-groomed and alive with expression. For such orbs, makeup is merely window dressing.

If you live by the health rules and have your vision checked regularly, clarity of eye just naturally follows. Grooming is a matter of keeping the brows and lashes well-brushed. And you can never be too faithful to the routine.

When the brows and lashes are stubborn, you can tame them by applying a film of white petroleum jelly before brushing. Stragglers—those strands that grow out side outline of the brow—should be removed. But never tamper with the brow itself. Those who do come to look like a plucked chicken.

As for the expression in your eyes, it bespeaks your thoughts and feelings quite as eloquently as your words. Sometimes more so! A word may not be spoken, but the eyes will betray such unattractive attitudes as boredom and insincerity.

To say appealing things about you, your eyes must be alert and alight with interest. They also must look the other person right in the eye. Dazzled, the person will look right back and not find the view wanting.

Pravda Denounces Two-Nation Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today denounced the French-German treaty of cooperation as a grave threat to peace enabling the Germans to acquire nuclear bombs and unleash total thermonuclear war.

The organ of the Soviet Communist party warned that the Communist bloc would be forced to strengthen its defenses.

"The present French government has trampled the commitment to uphold German militarism and Nazism," Pravda said.

Dr. Mordechai Kreinin, Michigan State University economist, has suggested that a business Peace Corps be enlisted to give technical assistance to underdeveloped countries.

Left-wingers Back Ceylon Oil Fight

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Left-wing leaders today backed the Ceylon government's decision "not to yield to pressure" on compensation to two U.S. oil companies. Rightist leaders opposed the move. The government Friday called off negotiations in the wake of U.S. suspension of aid to Ceylon.

The compensation issue arose out of Ceylon's nationalization of 33 gasoline stations owned by the two companies.

British-owned Shell estimates its losses at $4.2 million, as against a total claim of $3.8 million from Esso and Caltex.

Later, he said, he may go to Switzerland to seek treatment for a stomach disorder.

State Relief Cases Nudge 1950 Record

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's relief roll in January soared to its highest total for a single month since 1950, statistics of the Public Welfare Department show.

There were 468,011 Pennsylvanians on relief last month, the department records indicate. This was the largest monthly total since March of 1950 when 485,800 persons were on relief.

There was no cost account of the January relief payments as yet. But the 468,011 represented a 16,513 increase over December and a 17,789 boost over January a year ago.

BUS FIRM ASKS SCRANTON AID TO END STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gov. William Scranton, in office less than a month, has been asked to again step in and help settle a transportation strike in the Philadelphia area.

Scranton helped settle the 19-day-old strike of the Philadelphia Transportation Co.

Sunday, county commission chairmen Albert H. Swing of Delaware County, Elkins Wetherill of Montgomery County and Gilbert Hazlett of Chester County, wired the governor asking him to help settle the strike of the Red Arrow bus and trolley lines.

RED ARROW STRIKE

Red Arrow was struck Friday by Lodge 998, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Red Arrow management also is negotiating with Local 267, Transport Workers Union, which is not on strike.

Red Arrow carries about 120,000 riders daily in Delaware, Chester and Montgomery counties.

Negotiators met briefly Sunday and reported no progress. They headed back to the bargaining tables today.

Joseph Sharfstein, chairman of the Public Utility Commission, met with negotiators Sunday. Sharfstein wants the union to agree to arbitration. The company has agreed conditionally.

Arnold Frueh, Red Arrow vice president, said "We're on dead center and there is no progress."

Frank Sharr, chairman of the union negotiating committee, said "If there is anybody interested in getting buses and trolleys running again, it will have to come from the Public Utility Commission. Red Arrow says it cannot come to an agreement with the union without any money to bargain with."

Red Arrow seeks to raise cash fares from 24 to 25 cents, student fares from 10 to 12½ cents, and wants to eliminate the 22½ cent token.

The union wants a 30-cent wage increase spread over two years for its 400 members. Wages now range from $2.17 to $2.74 an hour.

Earlier in the weekend, Merritt H. Taylor, Red Arrow president, said he wants to sell the firm to a regional transit authority, which he said could solve the area's mass transit problems.

SUDAN'S LAW CRITICIZED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Clyde W. Taylor, secretary of public affairs for the National Association of Evangelicals, says that the Sudan's new Missionary Societies Act, prohibiting missionaries from working among people except of their own faith and restricting them to specific areas, is one of the "most repressive laws against Christianity outside the Iron Curtain."

CHINESE KEEP BOY CHILDREN; ABANDON GIRLS FOR ADOPTION

By LEONARD KISCHE

LONDON (AP)—An almond-eyed child arrives by coach in bustling downtown London. It's the end of a fantastic journey for the child from another world teeming, squalid, frightening Hong Kong.

Today there are 53 abandoned Chinese refugee children living in the comparative security of British homes. Only a few weeks ago some of them were lying helpless and hungry, abandoned on Hong Kong doorsteps.

How did it all come about?

Miss Kathleen Luce, director of the British branch of the International Social Service, says:

"We considered tackling this problem in 1958 but did not know how to go about it. Where would the children go once they came to Britain? That was one of my main problems."

FOSTER PARENT PLAN

Then in 1960, which was proclaimed World Refugee Year, appeals were launched for help and a number of people came to see Miss Luce.

"It was then we hit on the idea they could help by acting as foster parents or, eventually, each adopt an abandoned Chinese refugee child," she says.

Two to three hundred applications reach the social service each year from people wanting to take in abandoned Chinese children.

Yet only 53 children reached Britain under this scheme. All are girls between the ages of 10 months and 3½ years.

"You see, however hard a Chinese family is hit, it never abandons a boy," Miss Luce says.

The problems connected with bringing a Chinese refugee child are legion. Says Miss Luce:

"It takes time to establish which child is to be chosen from among the many that stand a chance of coming here. There are a number of inquiries to be made to establish, if possible, some of the child's background and see that no distant relatives will appear later to claim it.

"There are administrative forms to be gone through in Hong Kong. Then we have to plan the journey here and select the prospective foster parents from among the list of applications.

"It all takes a lot of time and work."

COUPLES PREFERRED

Miss Luce says:

"We prefer couples. A foster child, we think, must have the perfect happy family background. This means a lot of checking, including a medical check of the prospective foster parents."

The social service prefers the prospective couple act as foster parents first. The children are then kept under close observation as are the foster parents.

"Only if the children are found to be happy and their foster parents so desire, can there be adoption," Miss Luce explains.

About half of the families who have taken in abandoned Chinese children have adopted them. Of the total of 53 British families involved some two-thirds have children of their own.

Prospective foster parents are warned in time and wait for their foster children at London airport. From there, little Fung Fung Yee—which means the glad one—or Ling Chi—fairy plant—or Lee Ling Tai—beautiful goddess—is whisked away to her new home.

There she becomes Margaret, or Joan or Beryl: It's easier on the new parents.

Miss Luce says there were difficulties in raising new funds. But the idea is snowballing and other countries are taking a hand.

SOME TO UNITED STATES

"But some 530 have already gone to the United States, older ones among them," Miss Luce says. "In the United States a few of these children have gone to live with distant relatives in the Chinese-American community and more are to go."

MASON STOPS CROWDS WITH ITALIAN SONGS

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina

(AP)—Italian-born bricklayer

Santino Colli stops traffic daily from the third and fourth floors of a building construction scaffolding.

He doesn't throw bricks or mortar at drivers or pedestrians — just musical notes.

"I sing because I like it. It isn't my fault that the people stop to listen," said Colli.

When he gets a large crowd, Colli puts down his masonry tools and begins what he calls "my spectacular free show."

With arias from "Aida" and other operas, he draws enthusiastic applause. He follows up with popular Italian songs and stops only when the traffic jams bring complaints from police.

"I came to Argentina from my home town of Mola di Bari (Italy) when I was 8 years old," said

Colli, WANTED TO SING

He then described how he became interested in singing while attending public schools here:

"There was a guitar. Someone was playing. I wanted to sing. I did and I haven't stopped. Why shouldn't I sing while I work?"

Colli went so far as to become a pupil of Teodoro Fuchs, director of the Buenos Aires Symphony. He was given a part in the chorus of the Teatro Colon, Argentina's well-known opera house.

"I only stayed a month," said Colli. "They didn't pay me. I had to eat."

He said that it is difficult for singers to obtain work here "but it is something I would like to do."

Colli added with a smile: "I know I'm getting more money than most singers in Argentina: 100 pesos an hour it is steady work."

With the crowd shouting for more, Colli sang again. This time a policeman came up, asking him to stop because of the traffic delay his singing caused as drivers stopped to hear and to see.

"It isn't my fault," said Colli apologetically. "I like to sing."

His co-workers applauded. They too, wanted more.

"What can I do?" Colli asked the policeman, acknowledging the applause.

"You can move up a couple of floors and lower your voice a couple of notes," the policeman yelled.

Thus far, Colli has sung at three construction jobs. The bank building on which he is working will be completed soon.

"It's almost like a new opening everytime I get another job," he said.

WILL UNVEIL SCHOOL PLANS DURING WEEK

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Scranton administration is expected to unveil its proposal for mandatory school district reorganization this week as the General Assembly returns for another sitting in Harrisburg.

The governor also tentatively is scheduled to present the legislation with his special message on education Tuesday. It has not been determined as yet whether he will present the message personally.

Meanwhile, Senate Majority Leader James S. Berger expects his Republican caucus to press for passage of its debated reorganization moratorium bill.

COMPREHENSIVE PACKAGE

The Senate returns at 4 p.m., the House at 4:30 p.m.

The Scranton plan for reorganization—which has received considerable attention from his special legislative committee—is intended to be a comprehensive package designed to meet the strong objections to the current reorganization law, aides to the governor say.

One prominent feature, they add, is a clause designed to permit high quality districts to remain as independent school units.

However, the factors to be used in determining the quality of a district's education program were not learned.

ITEMS TO BE COVERED

The Scranton package also is expected to touch on these provisions: the transfer of debts and liabilities in merged districts; the election either at-large or by district, of school directors; the election of chief administrators; the extension of transportation subsidies to all districts but Philadelphia; and the continuation of supplement payments to unions and jointures.

In the Senate, more debate is expected before the legislators take a final vote on what first appeared to be a routine move to delay for one year the deadlines in the current reorganization statute.

Amendments to the moratorium bill opened the way to debate—both on and off the floor—on whether the proposal, as it is now worded, is compulsory.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh ran into a series of mishaps on the sixth day of their visit to New Zealand.

Winds blowing as the royal couple sailed into the harbor of Wellington in the royal yacht Britannia forced them to sail into the wharf by barge.

A civic reception had to be moved indoors. Light rain, gusty winds and overcast made conditions unpleasant.

On a 15-mile drive to nearby Hutt City three cars in the procession telescoped, causing minor damage.

Nicholas Donofrio, 24, of Whelton, Conn., shot a pheasant, state police at Newtown, Conn., said. He was arrested and charged with: hunting out of season, hunting from a motor vehicle, carrying a loaded rifle in a motor vehicle, hunting without a license, discharging a rifle near a highway, hunting within 500 feet of a dwelling and driving a motor vehicle without a license.

Donofrio couldn't even keep the pheasant. Police planned to keep it in a deep freeze for use as evidence at his trial.

crats say no.

OTHER MATTERS

Administration officials say the debate is premature because the administration bill will supersede the moratorium bill, anyway.

In matters other than education, the legislature is expected to follow this path for the week:

Harness racing — Republican amendments are expected to allow public employees earning less than $6,000 a year to work at harness race tracks. As the bill stands now on the House floor, it flatly prohibits any civil servant from activity at race tracks.

Election reform—House Republicans plan to offer a package of bills on election reform. They would include a constitutional amendment to provide supervision of elections at the pleasure of the legislature.

LINCOLN ANNIVERSARY

Primarily it is aimed at eliminating one-party domination in some election districts.

"The ultimate goal," said Rep. Austin M. Lee, R-Philadelphia, "once the constitutional amendment passes two sessions and is approved by the voters, is to amend the election code to permit the appointment of responsible district election officials on the basis of competence."

Lincoln anniversary—Both houses plan to set aside an hour on Tuesday for speeches honoring the anniversary of the birth of President Lincoln.

4 CHILDREN FALL THROUGH ICE AND DROWN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Four children playing on ice-covered lakes drowned—three of them in one mishap—in Pennsylvania during the weekend.

Two of the victims were twins, Daniel and Stephen Graziosa, 8, of Bristol Township in southeastern Pennsylvania. They and a companion, Sidney Taylor, 7, were drowned in Langefelder Lake Sunday where they had been playing soldier.

The other drowning victim was James Curry, 7, who drowned in Lake Erie Saturday.

3 TRAFFIC VICTIMS

Three persons died in traffic, and one was asphyxiated, to bring the toll of accidental deaths to eight.

Coupon — Mark J. Luther, 46, owner of a school bus transportation firm in Coupon, Cambria County, was killed by carbon monoxide fumes Saturday while repairing a bus in a garage.

Mercer — George Szabo, 52, killed by a car near Mercer Friday night as he walked along a road near his home.

Reading — Earle H. Kenner, 76, killed by a car Saturday night as he stepped off a sidewalk into the street.

Brookville — Samuel L. Barnett, killed Saturday when his car skidded on ice and smashed into the path of another auto on Route 36 in Jefferson County.

Flight Phraseology To Be Standardized

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Conversational misunderstanding, frustrating in everyday life, can be fatal in flying, says Lt. W. F. Morey, a communications officer at George Air Force Base.

Morey says the military has standardized radio communication to avoid such colorful, but easily misunderstood, conversations as:

PILOT: "Dayton Tower, this is (aircraft) 678. Gimme the yield to take the field (permission to land)."

TOWER: "Roger, 678, you've got the nod to hit the sod."

Special Listing For Poor Spellers

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — Telephone directory listings are sometimes complicated.

For instance the directory spells Dr. Hart Odom's name correctly in one place and has it Odum in another.

Gordon MacGregor pays for an extra listing as McGregor so automobile customers can find his number and attorney Wesley Wraggs has his name also listed as Raggs . . . in case of a case.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Conversation in a downtown Des Moines store elevator:

First woman: "I worked two hours overtime today."

Second woman: "You'll get a big pay check."

First woman: "Not too big, I hope. My husband might quit work again."

SAUERKRAUT, FRANKFURTERS FOR QUICK DISH

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

When you're in a hurry, you may find that a can of sauerkraut is a pound of frankfurters' best friend. The combination is quickly put together in various ways. Here are some suggestions.

Stuff frankfurters with instant mashed potatoes, top with grated cheese and broil. Heat sauerkraut in a skillet and top with fried apple rings.

Turn a can of sauerkraut into a skillet. Add instant minced onion, brown sugar and butter to taste; mix well. Bury a pound of franks in the kraut; cover and simmer until kraut and franks are piping hot.

Drain sauerkraut and mix with stewed tomatoes, sugar, salt and pepper to taste; bury the franks in the mixture and simmer until hot.

A little dry red wine left over? Add it to sauerkraut along with onion, brown sugar and raisins. Heat franks in simmering water; serve with the sauerkraut.

Dream up a spicy quick kraut relish. For this add a can of the kraut to onion simmered in butter. Dump in undiluted tomato paste and brown sugar to taste. Serve with broiled franks.

Sauerkraut takes to seeds! Heat about a pound of kraut with about half a teaspoon of caraway seed as is done in German cooking. Or go Norwegian and add half a teaspoon of celery seed to about a pound of the kraut.

SNOW SCULPTURE—Parker Seiler, a 36-year-old school teacher, and a friend worked several hours at night to fashion these figures from snow in Lansing, Mich.

We like kraut cooked with apples. Choose red-skinned apples and don't bother to pare. Just cut each apple into eight wedges, removing core and seeds. Bury the apple wedges in the kraut in a skillet, adding chopped onion, brown sugar, butter, salt and pepper to taste. Cover and cook slowly, stirring a few times, and the kraut will be hot, the apples tender, in about 10 minutes or so. Serve with grilled franks.

AUTHORIZE NEW STRIKE BY TEAMSTERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Teamster stewards unanimously have authorized president James R. Hoffa to call a strike of about 16,000 members in four states, if necessary to back contract demands.

About 900 stewards and members jammed a hotel ballroom Sunday and heard Hoffa explain the contract proposals. Hundreds more watched on closed-circuit television.

"I hope there will be no strike," Hoffa said. "I am opposed to strikes." No deadline was set.

WAGES ARE ISSUE

Hoffa is chief union negotiator in talks with representatives of 500 independent truckers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

The locals involved are 107, with about 12,000 members, 470, 331, 312, 676 and 384.

The union seeks an hourly wage increase of 43 cents in a one year contract and a commitment to take first steps toward a national contract.

The latest company proposal was a 40-cent hourly increase over three years.

Drivers now make $2.70 an hour.

It's National Electrical Week

... marking 80 years of progress through electricity

This week — National Electrical Week — honors Thomas Alva Edison, the one time newsboy who brought electricity out of the laboratory and into practical use for the benefit of mankind. Edison, who worked untiringly to develop the first practical electric light bulb and the equipment needed to bring it into the homes of America, founded an industry that has become one of our largest and most vital.

It's an industry that has put the magic of electricity to work—to light and heat our homes . . . preserve and cook our food . . .

wash our clothes . . . power our factories . . . bring us news and entertainment . . . protect our health . . . and serve us in a thousand ways which contribute to the strength and prosperity of the nation.

Metropolitan Edison Company is proud to be a member of this vital industry . . . and proud to join with the other members of the industry across the nation in paying tribute to the memory of Thomas Edison, whose spirit of constantly seeking new and better ways to use the magic of electricity still guides our electrical progress.

Score 4 Goals in 3 Minutes to Win 5 to 2 A four-goal explosion within a span of 3 minutes and 27 seconds in the last period gave Providence a come-from-behind 5-2 victory over Baltimore in the American Hockey League Sunday and enabled the Reds to retain their four-point lead in the Eastern Division. Hershey tied Quebec for second place by beating the Aces 4-3 in overtime. Buffalo beat Springfield 5-2 and Rochester defeated Pittsburgh 3-2 in the other AHL games Sunday. Providence, playing on home ice, trailed Baltimore 2-1 when Harry Pidhirny ignited the Reds' outburst at 14:06 of the third period to tie the score. It was a remarkable shot from a deep angle on the right. Femie Flaman followed with a 55-footer from just inside the blue line on the right at 14:48. Larry Leach clicked on a short shot at 16:06 and Pidhirny scored again at 17:33. HERSHEY RALLIES Hershey also came from behind to beat Quebec on Cleveland Mort. son's goal after only 27 seconds of sudden death overtime. Buffalo, the Western Division leader, snapped Springfield's four-game winning streak with Brian Smith slamming home two goals before a Buffalo turnout of 8,755. Goals by Dick Gamble and Lou Angotti gave Rochester an early lead and the Amers held on to beat Pittsburgh and tie the Hornets for third place in the West. Jim Pappin of Rochester and Bob Dillabough of Pittsburgh were ejected for fighting in the first period of the game at Rochester and each face automatic $100 fines. It was the second straight win for Rochester over Pittsburgh. The Americans had whipped the Hornets at Pittsburgh Saturday 9-1. In other Saturday games Buffalo beat Cleveland 4-1 and Springfield shut out Providence 3-0. No games are scheduled to-night. HERSHEY BOY WINS FIGURE SKATE CROWN

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Tommy Litz, 17, of Hershey, Pa., today holds the senior men's figure skating championship of the United States.

Litz, coming from third place in compulsory school figures, performed spectacularly and flawlessly Saturday night to win the title.

The crowd at Long Beach Arena gave him a standing ovation as he overtook both Scott Ethan Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., and defending champion Monty Hoyt of Denver.

CLOSE SCORING

Another Pennsylvanian, Dick Edwards of Haverford, was sixth. Litz executed two triple revolutions—a triple capital scissor and a triple toe loop.

On a scale where 5.0 is perfect.

MAC OFFICIALS MEETING TODAY

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — Athletic directors of schools in the University Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference were invited to a meeting today to discuss problems which might lead to an end of the conference, if not solved.

The meeting was called by Hen Bream, athletic director of Gettysburg College and MAC president. He said a report that the University of Delaware refused to schedule St. Joseph's and LaSalle in basketball next year was one thing that prompted the meeting.

The problems include refusal of some members to play all three members annually, the basketball dominance of St. Joseph's, LaSalle and Temple, and different admission standards and grant-in-aid policies within the group.

Bucknell, Lafayette, Lehigh and Muhlenberg are also members of the university division.

Litz was scored 5.5, 5.7, 5.5, 5.6 and 5.3 for content of program and three 5.5s, 5.4, 5.6 for manner of performance.

TO ITALY NEXT

The decisions were close. In the majority voting system Litz had two firsts, a second and two thirds.

Litz earned a victory on a total ordinal points of 10 to Allen's 12. The low total is best.

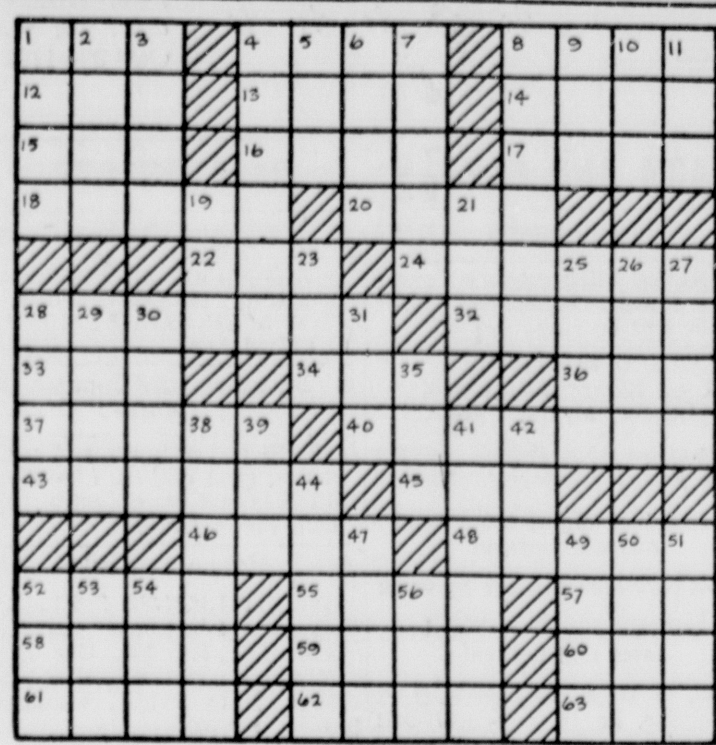

Litz, Hoyt and Allen were among those named to represent the United States at the world meet at Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy, later this month.
